DETAILED ACTION

1. This is in response to the amendment filed August 25, 2006. Claims 1-20 and 22-36 are pending in this application.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed August 25, 2006, with respect to claims 1-20 and 22-36 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of the claims has been withdrawn.

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

3. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Treymayne M. Norris (Reg. No.58,683) on November 9, 2006.

Please rewrite claims 1, 9 and 17 as below:

Claim 1. A database storage system for providing storage for metadata sets, each metadata set related to a file uploaded by a user over a network, the database storage system comprising:

a plurality of database storage facilities for storing the metadata sets, each database storage facility comprising at least two logically partitioned sections, wherein the file is directed to at least one alternate database storage facility and at least one database storage facility stores a first original metadata set in one logically partitioned section of the at least one database storage facility and stores a copy of a second original metadata set, the second original metadata set located in another database storage facility, in another logically partitioned section of the at least one database storage facility, such that storing the first original metadata set and the copy of the second original metadata set is based on an user identifier; and a file management component for managing metadata storage in order to store each metadata set in more than one logically partitioned section and in more than one database storage facility.

Claim 9. A method for providing storage for metadata sets for multiple users, each metadata set related to a file uploaded by a user over a network, the method comprising:

dividing a plurality of database storage facilities into at least two logically partitioned sections; storing an original metadata set in a logically partitioned section of at least one of the plurality of database storage facilities, wherein storing the original metadata set is based on an user identifier;

storing a copy of an original metadata set located in another database storage facility of the plurality of database storage facilities in another logically partitioned section of the at least one database storage facility, wherein storing the copy of the original metadata set located in the another database storage facility is based on the user identifier; and managing metadata storage in order to store each metadata set in more than one logically partitioned section and in more than one database storage ~~facility~~. facility; and directing the file to an alternate database storage facility.

Art Unit: 2163

Claim 17. A network storage system for providing storage space for multiple users, the system comprising:

a file uploading component for uploading an image file from each user to the storage system, and for deriving an image metadata set related to the uploaded image file;

a plurality of database storage facilities for storing each image metadata set, each database storage facility including at least two logically partitioned sections, wherein the image file is directed to at least one alternate database storage facility and at least one database storage facility stores a first original image metadata set in one logically partitioned section of the at least one database storage facility and stores a copy of a second original image metadata set, the second original image metadata set located in another database storage facility, in another logically partitioned section of the at least one database storage facility, such that storing the first original image metadata set and the copy of the second original image metadata set is based on an user identifier; and a file management component for managing data storage in order to store each image metadata set in more than one logically partitioned section and in more than one database storage facility, and for directing the image file to an image storage facility.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-20 and 22-36 are allowed over the prior art of record.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding independent claims 1, 9, 17, 26 and 36, the prior art fails to disclose or suggest the claimed provision "at least one database storage facility stores a first original image metadata set in one logically partitioned section of the at least one database storage facility and stores a copy of a second original image metadata set, the second original image metadata set located in another database storage facility, in another logically partitioned section of the at least one database storage facility, such that storing the first original image metadata set and the copy of the second original image metadata set is based on an user identifier” as claimed in conjunction with remaining claims provisions.

The dependent claims, being further limiting to the independent claims, definite and enabled by the Specification are also allowed.

Other Prior Art Made of Record

5. 1. Baranovsky et al. (US 5,897,661) disclose logical volume manger and method having enhanced update capability with dynamic allocation of storage and minimal storage of metadata information.

2. Blumenau et al. (US 6,282,602 B1) disclose method and apparatus for manipulating logical objects in a data storage system.

3. Andersen (US 6,865,655 B1) discloses methods and apparatus for backing up and restoring data portions stored in client computer systems.

4. Ofek et al. (US 6,487,561 B1) discloses apparatus and methods for copying, backing up, and restoring data using a backup segment size larger than the storage block size.

5. Davis et al. (US 7,010,144 B1) disclose associating data with images in imaging systems.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to Applicant's disclosure.
